The Trumpet That Stood on a Stool, 2003

mixed media
22½ x 48½ inches

You see a trumpet,
I see an object that shapes my soul.
Stacks of music,
And songs that have transformed my days.
The days I played these songs,
The days I prayed these songs,
Now gone and greatly missed.
There is sadness here,
A love that has disappeared,
My music passed away.
The fight was ugly,
And it lost the ugly fight.
